COMPULSORY MILITARY

Schools May Close in Severe
Weather Under New Plan,
Without Extending Term.

Commissioner H. D. Huffaker of the department of education and health, announces that the city schools will open this year for work on Monday, Sept. 9. This is just two weeks earlier than the schools usually open, which has been done in order to close during the severe weather this winter if necessary and save fuel. This eliminates the inconvenience of extending the term at the close of the school year.

When the coal shortage was so great last winter, a number of the schools in the city suspended for a week and in some instances for two weeks. This was done in order to conserve fuel as it took such large quantities to heat these large buildings. Commissioner Huffaker is benefiting by past troubles and is now looking ahead and preparing to help Mr. Garfield all he can.

Many Chattanoogaans with children who are in the habit of going to the mountains for the summer months and remaining until September 24, will have to return to their winter homes in the city earlier this year.

This is the second school year opening since the United States entered the war, and special attention will be given to military activities and patriotic features.

Military Training Compulsory.

Military training in the Chattanooga High school this year will be compulsory. Last year students who desired to take the training were enlisted in the military classes, but now all of the male students will be required to take the training. It is also the plan of the commissioner to extend this training into the new East Side Junior High school. This will be the first year that the military training has been introduced into this school. It will in all probability be compulsory here also.

Supt. C. H. Winder, of the city schools, who has been away on his vacation during the past month or so, will return in two weeks to work out a detailed plan for the opening of the schools.

All of the school buildings are being put in repair and will be in good condition by the time school opens in the fall.

SILK GINGHAM
FOR DEMURENESS

(By Betty Brown.)
Organdie and silk gingham are waging a summer fight for popularity and at last have decided to combine forces and appear in the same frock. Here a most charming truce is declared to the honor of both fabrics. Organdie is awarded the duties of the foundation frock and blue and white checked silk gingham ably secures its efforts by furnishing a deep, deep hem, a diminutive jacket, sleeve ribbons, and a fetching parasol.

ices of a corps of the physicians from the base hospital.
The following are assisting: Maj. J. S. K. Shaw, Maj. Dare, Lieut. Wilson, and Wright, of the base hospital, who are in charge of the day nursery at St. Elmo this week; Lieut. F. A. Ben, C. W. Glover, H. S. Von Nostrand, DeLong, of Camp Greenleaf.

Interest continues among the women of the city in the campaign. Mrs. Joe W. Clift is chairman. Nearly 500 children were examined Tuesday.

In most cases the children were up to the "notch" according to age, height, weight, throat, eye and skin diseases. The principal ailments were adenoids, under weight and some skin diseases. One of the best reports of the day was given by Mrs. Nathan Bachman, who was in charge of the Eleventh Street school, reports that thirty-eight little "pickaninies" scrubbed to a shining cleanliness, stood the test. The mothers were all anxious to know the results of the examination, and if not, were anxious to have their troubles remedied.

Examinations of children under 5 will take place in the suburbs from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. Thursday and Friday, marking the closing of the campaign. Schedule for examination and committee chairmen in charge at suburban schools are: East Chattanooga, Friday and Saturday, Mrs. S. H. Frohman, chairman; Avondale, Friday, Mrs. Dan Kenner; South St. Elmo, Thursday, Mrs. M. R. Rogers; North St. Elmo, Friday, Mrs. A. E. Sanderson; Missionary ridge, Friday, North Chattanooga, Thursday, Mrs. David Knox; Normal Park, Miss Headrick; Orchard Knob, (colored), Mrs. G. L. Billingsley; South St. Elmo (colored), Mrs. W. T. Louden.

A dinner was given at the Post Monday evening by Col. Rutherford, Maj. Pursey, Capt. Hoyt, Maj. Turley and Lieut. McCarthy in honor of Miss Josephine McCleary, Margaret Davenport, Katherine Phillips, Mary Stewart, Margaret Ochs and Gloria Lamb. Mrs. F. C. McCleary was the chaperone of the party.

Dropping the German

Mrs. Hanna Returns From Peabody—German Methods in Music Taboo.

Mrs. Juanita Hanna is home from Baltimore, where she has been studying music at the Peabody institute. Mrs. Hanna says that war has revolutionized the study of music as well as other things, that the Peabody institute is dropping out the German methods in harmony and is working along the lines of French, Italian and Russian systems of harmony. She states that competent musical educators are now at the institute, working on the new methods, and this new movement is expected to develop certain things that have otherwise seemed to be impossible.

Dr. and Mrs. Hanna will leave next week for a motor trip to Atlantic City.

PROBLEM OF SUPPORTING
WOMEN BLOCKS PLAN

Government to Provide Nurses and Medicines for Diseased Women.

No definite plans have yet been worked out for the support of the women who are to be placed in the new hospital which may be erected at the Crittenton home. Commissioner H. D. Huffaker stated Wednesday morning that he could not bring the matter up before the commissioners before he had a written report giving him some idea as to how much money he required for the upkeep of the women, if the hospital is erected.

The city and county authorities have already given $10,000 for the building of the hospital, but the members of the Crittenton Home board will not consent to have it erected until they have a written guarantee stating where the money is coming from to support the women after the hospital has been built.

Commissioner Huffaker is very much interested in the establishment of a hospital for the treatment of venereal diseases; however, the commissioner says that he cannot take any action until he has the proper information in hand.

Mrs. Joe Brown, the president of the Crittenton Home board, states that when the association moved into its new home in St. Elmo they would receive material aid from officials for the support of the institution, but that it had not been forthcoming and that they were being forced, compelled to depend on charity.

Government Nurses.
Dr. Knight, of the United States public health service, states that he will assure the board in writing that the federal service will provide three nurses for the new hospital and if necessary, more, and the medicine for the treatment of venereal cases will also be furnished by the United States public health service.

The plans as have been approved are provided by Dr. Knight for a 100-bed hospital built on the style of the cantonment service camp at a cost of $10,000, which has already been provided.

While the ground has been staked off so that the board could make plans for the gardening, there will be no further effort put forward for the building of the hospital until a written statement has been presented to the committee of the hospital in order that the women to be maintained by the hospital will be maintained by the county and city authorities.

It is the county officials pay for the boarding of those cases committed by the county and city to pay for those cases committed by the city.

TWO TINY FRENCH
DOLLS ADOPTED HERE

Aimee and Alsire, Fatherless
Children of the War, to Be Made Happy.

A large number of Chattanooga people, societies and organizations have adopted little French children, whose fathers were killed in the war. Numerous letters of appreciation for the financial assistance rendered in order that the kiddies may be provided for have been received here.

The above cut introduces Aimee and Alsire Loyer, who have been adopted by Miss Nettie Ryder and Mrs. Chas. Thornton. The children, as can be seen, are bright, attractive little French mademoiselles. Their father, Augustin Loyer, a farm hand, was killed in Belgium on Nov. 7, 1914. The Loyer family was well thought-of by everyone. The father was a good worker who loved his family, and the mother, also a farm hand, looked after her children and her house. Since the death of her husband all this has changed. The children have been put into a school in order that the mother might herself go into the fields to work. The little family must live by her work and by help from others.

It has proven a joy to Miss Ryder and Mrs. Thornton to aid the Loyer children, who attend the free school at Montesson. Miss Ryder has received a letter from F. Perry, superintendent of the school, in which he said: "Be assured, Miss, that this family is very worthy. The mother is busy working in the fields all day. The two little girls come to school. Your little daughter is a bright little thing, very mischievous, who will not be long in learning to read, for she is very intelligent."

"The mother has been very happy to receive your generous gift, and ask me to express to you her gratefulness. 'Miss, please accept the expression of my respectful sentiments.'"

Supt. Perry said in the beginning of his letter that he was directed by the Rev. Father Questel, secretary of the society, "La Bretagne" of Paris, whose work is that of caring for the orphans of the battle of Montesson.

Miss Ryder has been informed that the children were removed to South Brittany because of the danger from air raids. It was feared that their health was impaired because they were forced to spend part of the time in cellars in order that they could be protected from bombs dropped from the air.

Alsire Loyer, the little miss adopted by Miss Ryder, was born at Montesson on April 6, 1914.

LIEUT. JENKINS AND BRIDE
IN DOUBLE WEDDING

Couple Well Known Here—Party to Uniform Affair at Macon, Ga.

The Macon Telegraph gives the following account of a double wedding: "As a surprise to their many friends will come the announcement of the double wedding of Miss Mary Julia Jenkins to Mr. Robert E. Johnson, of Lafayette, and Miss Pearl Harbor, of Camp Taylor, Louisville, which took place yesterday at the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Jenkins, 202 Ridge avenue, the parents of Miss Jenkins and Lieut. Jenkins.

"Announcement had already been made of the approaching marriage of Miss Jenkins to Mr. Johnson. Both Lieut. Jenkins and Miss Harbor arrived at the home of Dr. Jenkins yesterday morning to attend the wedding. They had long been sweethearts and yesterday morning decided to make the wedding a double affair.

"Yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock Dr. G. L. Yates performed the ceremony for the two couples.

"There were no attendants, and only the nearest friends of all parties were present.

"Lieut. Jenkins and his bride will leave at once for Louisville, while Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will be at home at the residence of the bride's parents, 202 Ridge avenue."

Lieut. Walter N. Jenkins and his bride are both well known in Chattanooga. Lieut. Jenkins was stationed at Fort Oglethorpe for a long time. He went to Mexico with the regulars during the outbreak there.

FEATURES OF NURSES'
PARADE FOR FRIDAY

Large Body Children to Carry Flags—Red Cross Workers in Uniform.

Every child under fourteen years of age is asked to participate in the parade for the enlistment of student nurses, Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mrs. John Lamar Meek, chairman of this feature of the parade, requests that the children assemble at 2:15 o'clock Friday on the court house lawn, and all who can, to bring a United States flag with them. It is expected that there will be a goodly number of children, as children take the hold of whatever they do with an enthusiasm calculated to interest others.

Mrs. P. A. Brawner, of the National League for Women's Service, will be the general marshal of the parade.

Following the parade there will be a mass meeting at the courthouse, when different speakers will tell of the government's policy in asking the enlistment of student nurses.

Mrs. Mary Giles Howard, general chairman of the nurses' campaign, is the volunteer building every day to give information to applicants and to take the names of those who desire to register, as the registration cards have not arrived.

Information is given out that the enrollment card will indicate two classes of registrants—preferred and deferred. The preferred class will be those who are ready to accept assignment to whatever hospital the government directs them, although they may state what training school they prefer to be sent to. Those who register in the preferred class will be assigned first, and all possible consideration will be given to their preference.

The deferred class is composed of those who limit their pledge of service; that is, who will not engage to go except to certain hospitals. This class is intended largely for those who for family reasons, can not accept training at a distance from their homes. Those who register in the deferred class will be assigned only after the preferred class is exhausted. No body will be assigned to any schools whose conditions of training are not approved by the state board of nurse examiners.

As the rate at which the young women are giving in their names, Mrs. Howard fully expects that Hamilton county will reach its quota of one hundred in the allotted time.

The Red Cross headquarters will be open Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock for those who wish to obtain uniforms to be in the parade, and the chairman of the Red Cross makes an appeal for all of the Red Cross workers to take part in the parade.

The Junior Charity workers of the St. Elmo Methodist church will give a silver tea Thursday evening, August 4, from 4 to 6 at the home of Mrs. Bert Elliott, 4216 St. Elmo avenue. A program will be rendered and refreshments served.

WOULD WALK 20
MILES TO TELL IT

Miss McKenzie Suffered for Eighteen Months.

Tells Friends How Tanlac Helped Her.

Gained Twenty-Five Pounds
and Health Restored,
She Declares.

"I'm so grateful for the wonderful relief I have gotten from taking Tanlac, that I would be willing to walk twenty miles to tell anyone who suffers like I did, what this medicine has done for me," said Miss Adeline McKenzie, 424 Sixth Ave., South, Nashville, Tenn.

"I suffered for about eighteen months from nervous prostration and kept getting worse in spite of all I could do. I had no appetite at all and after eating my stomach would burn like I had swallowed a fire-coal. I would turn ill in one minute and not the next, at times, and I was so nervous I couldn't keep still. I could hardly sleep at all and I fell off at least sixty pounds.

"After I tried several different medicines without getting any relief, my brother got me a bottle of Tanlac and I started taking it. By the time I had finished my second bottle, my appetite began to improve and the troubles were greatly relieved. The burning sensation in my stomach has disappeared, the nervousness is all gone, I sleep like a child at night and besides gaining twenty-five pounds in weight, I am in splendid health again."

Tanlac is sold in Chattanooga exclusively by the Live & Let Live Drug Co.—(Adv.)
